WORKFORCE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

STRONG WORKFORCE PROGRAM

Matt Roberts & Jill Leufgen

The Strong Workforce Program specifies that one-sixth of the dollars be allocated based on contribution to student success outcomes rather than the traditional approach of student enrollment. An initiative started last year, Strong Workforce Stars, is one way to measure toward that goal. This recognition celebrates California Community Colleges' career education programs that are moving the needle on factors enhancing social mobility in the following ways:

- An increase in student earnings by 50% or more
- Attainment of the regional living wage by 70% or more of students
- 90% or more students are employed in a job similar to their field of study

The 2018 class of Strong Workforce Stars boasts the following honorees:

STRONG WORKFORCE STARS LEVEL	CRITERIA	NUMBER OF PROGRAMS
Bronze Star	Met one threshold	975
Silver Star	Met two thresholds	294
Gold Star	Met three thresholds	115
TOTAL ⇒		1,384

Colleges with Strong Workforce Stars programs were notified of their status at the end of March and have been promoting their successes locally as of then. A statewide announcement of all Stars will begin in early June, complete with a press release, full social media campaign, refreshed website, tagging of programs in the Here to Career app and more.

CALIFORNIA COMMUNITY COLLEGES CORE APPLICATIONS PROJECT ($9.5M)

Van Ton-Quinlivan

Under the guidance of Senate Bill (SB) 1143 and 1456 (the Student Success Act), the Chancellor's Office was tasked with the creation of solutions to support students in choosing a course of study and developing education plans to achieve their educational goals. Over the course of eight years, the Chancellor's Office, Tech Center and Telecommunication and Technology Advisory Committee (TTAC) have fostered the development of several tools, which accomplish a portion of this task. These tools however are in varied stages of development and use across the California Community Colleges (CCC) landscape. The California Community Colleges Core Applications Project (CCCCAP) Grant aims to solve these problems by creating an environment where these software work in a coordinated manner.

In coordination with the Chancellor's Office, the grantee will be tasked with analyzing the need for software applications and services to support the mission of the CCC and identify gaps in services, alignment, user interface integration, authentication consistency, data flow, and other application aspects to ensure creation of applications and software services that provide students and CCC employees with seamless experiences. By evaluating and coordinating these software solutions across the CCC environment, the Core Applications Grant works in complete accordance with the Chancellor's Office Vision for Success and Guided Pathways by addressing problems students and faculty experience in researching a path from college to career. The application deadline is June 29, 2018.

DATA SERVICES PROGRAM GRANT ($4.7M)

Van Ton-Quinlivan

Currently, the majority of data created by our grant initiatives resides in separate and disparate systems. Decentralized data, held in several systems creates problems with the efficiency and effectiveness of solutions. It became apparent that some data in our current initiatives is unavailable to other initiatives because of the structure of existing Memorandum of Understandings (MOUs). The Data Services Program Request For Application (RFA) works to solve the problem outlined by implementing changes across the California Community Colleges (CCC) environment. The grantee will be tasked with establishing a Data Lake to aggregate all CCC data and secure it according to the Chancellor's Office's cyber-security standards and policies. The creation of a centralized Data Lake will ensure continuous, accurate, and timely data and facilitate successful collaboration across various all RFA services teams. In coordination with the Data Research and Analytics Project will provide a real-time data access infrastructure that provides for data reporting, dash boarding and presentation as well as a central repository for current and future MOU documents and agreements to support data projects. By establishing a centralized data infrastructure, the Data Services Project removes roadblocks to data across the CCC systems. The application deadline is June 29, 2018.
