INFORMATIVE DIGEST

Changing the minimum units for high credit Certificates of Achievement will improve the alignment with federal regulations and better serve California Community College students by more clearly documenting programs eligible for financial aid eligibility, and will result in more programs eligible for financial aid being submitted to and approved by the Chancellor's Office. This will assist colleges by giving them the ability to more clearly demonstrate program eligibility to the U.S. Department of Education.

Changing the minimum units for low Credit Certificates of Achievement will better serve California Community College students by increasing the number of programs eligible for inclusion on student transcripts.

Additionally, changes to the minimum units for both the high and low Credit Certificates of Achievement will enable colleges to be more responsive to the needs of community college students and communities, including the workforce needs identified in the Taskforce on Workforce, Job Creation, and a Strong Economy.

ESTIMATED COST OR SAVINGS OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The estimated cost or savings of the proposed amendments are anticipated to be as follows:

Mandate on local agencies or community college districts: None

Cost or savings to state agencies: None

Costs to local agencies or community college districts for which reimbursement would be required pursuant to part 7 (commencing with section 17500) of division 4 title 2 of the Government Code: None

Other non-discretionary cost or savings imposed on community college districts: None

Cost or savings in federal funding to state agencies: None

The effect of the adoption of the proposed regulations will not impose increased costs or new costs to community college districts that are required to be reimbursed under section 17561 of the Government Code. Such determination will be made a formal part of the public hearing at the time and place described above. Furthermore, there are no direct costs or indirect costs, or savings to any state agency, no costs or savings in federal funding to the state and no non-discretionary costs or savings to local agencies.
