Welcome Aboard the ARCC: A Quick Reference Guide for ARCC College Contacts

Revised December 12, 2011

Overview/Background

California State Assembly Bill AB1417 (Pacheco) [Chapter 581, Statutes of 2004] required the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to recommend to the Legislature and Governor a workable structure (framework) for annual evaluation of community college performance in meeting statewide educational outcome priorities. Pursuant to AB 1417, the California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office (Chancellor’s Office) worked with community college institutional researchers and an external panel of nationally recognized experts in higher education accountability to develop the mandated performance evaluation structure, now called Accountability Reporting for the Community Colleges, or ARCC.

The report provides an overview of system performance on specific indicators (transfer, vocational certificates, participation, etc.), along with college demographics and college performance on certain indicators (transfer, ESL, basic skills, vocational, etc).

The Chancellor’s Office issued the first ARCC report in 2007 and the report is updated annually every March. Each college has opportunities to review a draft of the report and resubmit data if needed. Additionally, each college can submit to the Chancellor’s Office a self-assessment regarding its performance, and the annual report includes these self-assessments.

College/District Responsibilities and the Timeline

Contacts: Colleges and districts need to ensure that information for a primary and secondary contact has been provided to the ARCC staff. This is probably the most important step in staying updated on ARCC issues. All contacts will be added to the ARCC e-mail distribution list. ARCC staff sends reminders and announcements on a regular basis. Colleges should e-mail contact changes to: arcc@cccco.edu.

Data:

- First Draft (October): Colleges need to ensure that their college submits complete data (including Spring program awards) annually by September 1st of each year. We pull data for ARCC shortly after this deadline. We calculate data and send the first draft report out in late October. Colleges are given until early December to review the first draft report and resubmit their data.

- Second Draft (January/February): After we receive data resubmissions, we recalculate the ARCC college indicators and add a peer grouping analysis to the second draft. Each college has 30 days to respond to the data in the second draft by submitting a 500-word self-assessment of its performance.

- Final Report (March): The Chancellor’s Office adds the individual college self-assessments and issues a final report. Each college has one year in which to present the ARCC report to its local Board of Trustees. Proof of board interaction (such as board minutes) with the ARCC report is due annually to the Chancellor’s Office.
